

Carla Wilson, DVM

Dr. Carla Wilson works in shelter medicine (at Muttville Senior Dog Rescue in San Francisco), emergency and critical care (in multiple 24-hour hospitals in the Bay Area) and will soon be starting a virtual care role at Modern Animal. After graduating from University of Melbourne in 2016, she completed a rotating internship at VCA San Francisco Veterinary Specialists, then worked in emergency and critical care in a 24-hour emergency and specialty practice in the SF Bay Area. She is currently working on her Certified Veterinary Pain Practitioner (CVPP) and Certified Canine Rehabilitation Practitioner (CRPP) certifications. She has a strong interest in pain management and hospice and palliative care. She believes clear and compassionate communication is crucial to our success as animal care professionals and is passionate about helping “translate” often complicated medical concepts into information that is useful and accessible to everyone.
