

Gail Hansen, DVM, MPH

Dr. Gail Hansen is a veterinary consultant who works primarily on public health policy and One Health issues. She has expertise in antibiotic resistance related to food, animals, and the connection between antibiotic use in agriculture and resistant human infections. She has worked nationally and internationally with government agencies, members of food animal production systems, the pharmaceutical industry, universities, non-governmental organizations, physicians, and veterinarians on zoonotic diseases and animal welfare. Dr. Hansen has worked at The Pew Charitable Trusts, on Capitol Hill, as an epidemiologist at state and local levels, and in private veterinary practice. She received her DVM from the University of Minnesota and a Masters in public health/epidemiology from the University of Washington. She is a proud member of HSVMA and the DC Representative to HSVMA.

912 S St NW #1, Washington, DC 20001
785-550-3453
www.gailrhansen.com
